

Autumn Breakfast Workshop Series 2008

The Insurance and Reinsurance Department of Edwards Angell Palmer & Dodge LLP (EAPD) will be hosting a series of four breakfast workshops through the Autumn. These interactive workshops will address topical insurance and reinsurance issues, and will be led by EAPD lawyers from our London and US offices.

Tuesday 23 September 2008

London or New York arbitration: does it really matter at the end of the day?

In this, the first of the four workshops in the EAPD Autumn Breakfast Workshop Series 2008, David Kendall and John Rosenquest will lead a frank discussion about the differences between US and UK arbitration and how the choice of forum in a reinsurance contract impacts the outcomes of various types of disputes.

David Kendall, Partner (UK)

John Rosenquest, Partner (US)

Tuesday 30 September 2008

Regulation of non-US insurance entities transacting business in the US

This workshop will provide an overview of the regulation of non-US insurance entities transacting business in the US, including surplus lines and other non-admitted insurers, reinsurers, brokers and claims adjusters. Proposals to reform the current state based system of insurance regulation in the US, including proposals to create a federal system of insurance regulation for non-admitted insurers, will also be discussed.

Jack Dearie, Partner (US)

Michael Griffin, Partner (US)

Ambereen Salamat, Partner (UK)

Wednesday 15 October 2008

Part VII transfers

This workshop will be in the form of a case study. It will provide insight into the key issues arising in a Part VII Transfer in the UK of a book of worldwide business. Ambereen Salamat and Carol-Ann Burton will also review recent statutory and non-statutory changes to the Part VII procedure, including the implementation of the Reinsurance Directive.

Ambereen Salamat, Partner (UK)

Carol-Ann Burton, Associate (UK)

Tuesday 28 October 2008

The Bermuda Excess Liability Form

In this workshop David Kendall and Antony Woodhouse will consider the key issues that arise under the so-called Bermuda Form, including claims aggregation, the treatment of expected or intended losses, claims notification and dispute resolution.

David Kendall, Partner (UK)

Antony Woodhouse, Partner (UK)

Venue

One Fetter Lane
London EC4A 1JB
UK

Agenda

08:00 am Registration and English breakfast
08:30am Workshop will start
10:00 am Workshop will finish

The EAPD Autumn Breakfast Workshops are all free to attend and are eligible for 1.5 CPD points each. If you would like to join us for any of these workshops please email your details to jwarby@eapdlaw.com indicating which workshop(s) you would like to attend. Please note, numbers are limited.

When it comes to Insurance and Reinsurance,
we know your business